uwmadison 24. Demonstrators gather near the Mosse Humanities Building on North Park Street to speak out against racism on a march through Library Mall and up State Street on June 7. The group stops every eight minutes and 46 seconds to be reminded of how long a Minneapolis police officer kneeled on the neck of George Floyd, who was killed on May 25.

cfacktor These posts are depressing, the protesters destroyed downtown Madison. I wish the University would focus on education, not stupid violent politics.

steve_go_wild @uwmadison the fact that these comments are still posted is really unsettling especially to BLACK prospect students who were looking forward to attending this institution.
